

Opening of temporary side track and traffic changes at Clyde Street west Batemans Bay in September 2020

Transport for NSW is constructing a temporary side track to the north of Clyde Street west near the Princes Highway in Batemans Bay.

What are we doing?

To enable the realignment of Clyde Street and allow the installation of bridge segments, a short side track is being constructed to the north of Clyde Street west near the intersection of the Princes Highway as part of the Batemans Bay Bridge replacement project.

Work on the side track has started and it is expected to open to traffic on Friday 18 September, weather permitting, and will remain in place until mid-2021. For the safety of the community a temporary pedestrian detour will be in place in the area until mid-2021 as well.

What you need to know

Work on the side track is taking place on the southern foreshore between the Clyde Street west boat ramp, Clyde Street west and the Princes Highway.

Temporary traffic changes will be in place for motorists when the temporary side track is opened to traffic, these changes include:

- motorists will not be permitted to cross the Princes Highway between Clyde Street east and west in either direction
- left turns only will be permitted into and out of Clyde Street west
- southbound highway traffic heading to Clyde Street west will still be required to detour along Clyde Street east, North Street and the Princes Highway.

For the safety of cyclists, pedestrians and workers, a temporary pedestrian detour will be in place to access Clyde Street west until mid-2021, weather permitting. The pedestrian detour will alternate between two options depending on construction activity. Please refer to the maps on the following pages.

We thank the community for your patience while this important work is completed.
