

Watermain relocations on the Newell Highway and Mitchell Highway, Dubbo from Monday 10 August

The NSW Government is funding $20 million to upgrade the Newell Highway and Mitchell Highway intersection to improve safety and efficiency.

Watermain and sewer main relocations on the Newell Highway and Mitchell Highway, Dubbo

The existing roundabout at the intersection of the Newell Highway and Mitchell Highway will be removed and replaced with traffic lights. The intersection will also be widened as part of the safety improvements.

There will be watermain and sewer main relocations on the Newell Highway and Mitchell Highway near the intersection for approximately three months.

The watermain and sewer main relocation work on the Newell Highway and Mitchell Highway will be carried out between 7am and 6pm from Monday to Friday from Monday 10 August and is expected to take three months to complete, weather permitting.

How will the work affect you?

We will notify you in advance and make every effort to minimise community impact wherever possible.

Where possible all impacts will be minimised and we will consult with you directly if some temporary changes are necessary.

Traffic changes

There will be some temporary traffic control measures in place to ensure the work zone is safe. There will be reduced lane widths and lane closures near the work during this time. There will be a reduced speed limit of 40km/h near the work and safety barriers will be used in some locations for the safety of workers and motorists.

Please keep to speed limits and follow the direction of traffic controllers and signs. For the latest traffic updates, you can call 132 701, visit livetraffic.com or download the Live Traffic NSW App.
