

Stacey Street and the Hume Highway, Bankstown Upgrade

Project update | June 2019

The intersection of Stacey Street and the Hume Highway, Bankstown

The NSW Government is investing in the planning and development of the upgrade to reduce congestion and improve safety in Bankstown.

Roads and Maritime Services is investigating a potential 2.2 kilometre upgrade of Stacey Street and the Hume Highway, Bankstown. It is expected that the upgrade would involve widening Stacey Street to create a divided six lane road, upgrading key intersections and providing new shared pathways.

The expected benefits of the upgrade are:

- improved road safety
- improved travel times and reliability
- reduced congestion
- increased capacity
- improved pedestrian and cyclist facilities
- improved freight movements and efficiency

Investigation work

To allow us to develop the design for the project we need to carry out investigation work. The work will include investigating ground conditions, identifying underground utilities and inspecting existing drainage.

We will be on site for up to 50 day shifts and 42 night shifts between Sunday 9 June and Sunday 25 August, weather permitting. Our work hours will be between 7am and 5:30pm Monday to Friday. Our night work hours will be between 9pm and 5am Sunday to Thursday.

How will the work affect you?

Our work may be noisy at times but we will do everything we can to minimise its impact, including completing the noisier tasks by midnight.

We will stage night work so that you will not be affected for more than two consecutive nights or for more than six nights in a month.

Over the course of the investigation work we will be directly contacting any affected residences and businesses.

Where are we now and next steps?

The project is now in its concept design stage. The community will have the opportunity to comment on a preferred option during community consultation.
